Gombin Society Website Gets a Face Lift!

We are very pleased to announce that the Gombin Society website www.gombin.org is getting a facelift. Our site has been up for several years offering information about The Gombin Society, our missions, our programs and our literature for sale.

It is now time to “freshen up”. We are in the process of adding family histories of anyone who would like to put together a “one-pager” about themselves and their families. I am in the process of updating mine right now. I hope some of you would like to add yours. Who knows? A family member from somewhere around the world might find you. You can even add your family pictures to the site if you send me a digital copy.

We have also added some new offerings to our Shop at Gombin section including the digitally remastered Gombin footage from 1939 now in DVD format. We also carry the award winning Back to Gombin film produced by our own Minna Packer from our 1998 trip to Gombin. This film has now been show around the world and you can have it in your home.

We also have all the information you might need to sign up for the Back to Gombin II trip next summer. We will be doing our site dedication as well as touring areas of great interest to you and your family. You can sign up right on the site....

Come check our out site.. I think you will be pleased.

Please send any family histories or if you have any questions about signing up for the Back to Gombin II trip to Poland next summer to me at prosperi1@frontiernet.net
